From: Curtis Burton, ARC Board Chairman

“ARC recognizes that questions about OSN invoices, reimbursements, and payment timing deserve a clear, documented response. Curtis Burton, the current ARC Board Chair, has requested an audit that will include a review of the agreement, invoices, supporting records, and payment process. As of Monday, October 19, ARC is current on outstanding invoices. The review will establish the facts and identify appropriate improvements to ARC’s systems; it does not begin with a presumption of fault. ARC will share updates as the review progresses.”

“In the coming weeks, ARC will bring free spay and neuter services in-house, including professional pre-operative and post-operative care for animals receiving services at the facility. These in-house services will help ensure continued access to safe, professionally supported care for community animals.”
